INTRODUCTION

This Guide to the National Endowment for the Arts provides an overview of the outstanding and important work the federal agency is doing to support the arts in communities across the country. You will find in the Guide links to various areas of the agency website, arts.gov, that will help you better navigate the site and find the material you are seeking.

The NEA's primary activities include grantmaking to nonprofit arts organizations, public arts agencies and organizations, and individual writers and translators. But it also is a national leader in the field and a convener on issues important to the arts community and people working at the intersections of arts and other fields such as health, community development, and education, among others. The Arts Endowment also disseminates important information, whether it is groundbreaking arts-based research or features on notable artists and arts organizations in communities nationwide through our blog, podcasts, American Artscape magazine, and social media.

The Arts Endowment supports our nation by striving to make the arts accessible to all communities through grantmaking, partnerships, and research. Together, we will continue to bring meaningful arts experiences to all Americans, helping to ensure that everyone in the country has the opportunity to live artful lives.

ABOUT US

The National Endowment for the Arts (NEA), established in Congress in 1965, is an independent federal agency that is the largest funder of the arts and arts education in communities nationwide and a catalyst of public and private support for the arts. By advancing equitable opportunities for arts participation and practice, the NEA fosters and sustains an environment in which the arts benefit everyone in the United States. The NEA also conducts research on the value and impact of the arts in order to share that information with stakeholders and the public.

To date, the NEA has awarded more than $5 billion in funding to strengthen the creative capacity of our communities and provide all Americans with diverse opportunities for arts participation. The Arts Endowment has provided crucial support at pivotal moments in their history for arts organizations such as the American Ballet Theatre, American Film Institute, Appalshop, Deaf West Theatre, Jazz at Lincoln Center, National Black Arts Festival, Steppenwolf Theatre Company, Spoleto Festival USA, and the Sundance Film Festival. For more than five decades, the Arts Endowment has supported activities such as performances, exhibitions, healing arts projects, art education programs, arts and community development initiatives, festivals, and artist residencies throughout the country.

FUNDING

The National Endowment for the Arts awards matching grants on a one-to-one basis to nonprofit organizations. Forty percent of the agency's funds go to state and jurisdictional arts agencies and regional arts organizations in support of arts projects in thousands of communities across the country. This video provides a brief overview of our grants process.

All applications to the National Endowment for the Arts are reviewed on the basis of artistic excellence and merit. First, agency staff review applications for eligibility and completeness. Then, they are reviewed by independent, national panels of citizens from across the country. Panels make recommendations that are forwarded to the National Council on the Arts for review. The chair makes the final decision on all grant awards.

We're always looking for individuals with experience and/or expertise in one or more of the arts disciplines to serve as panelists, as well as laypeople with an interest in the arts. If you're interested in becoming an Arts Endowment panelist, fill out the Volunteer to Be a Panelist form.

The National Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts' advisory body, comprises nationally and internationally renowned artists, distinguished scholars, and arts patrons appointed by the president and confirmed by the Senate. The council reviews and makes recommendations on the applications. Those recommendations for funding are sent to the Arts Endowment chairman. The chair reviews those applications and makes the final decision on all grant awards.

The following information provides an overview of our funding categories and other activities. Deadlines for funding opportunities can be found in the back of this guide. For our application guidelines, please visit our website at arts.gov/grants.

GRANTS FOR ORGANIZATIONS

Grants for organizations support exemplary projects in artist communities, arts education, dance, design, folk and traditional arts, literary arts, local arts agencies, media arts, museums, music, musical theater, opera, presenting and multidisciplinary works, theater, and visual arts.

Nonprofit, tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organizations; units of state or local government; and federally recognized tribal communities or tribes may apply. Applicants may be arts organizations, local arts agencies, arts service organizations, local education agencies (school districts), and other organizations that can help advance the goals of the National Endowment for the Arts.

Generally, an organization is limited to one application per year. Financial assistance is not available for general operating or seasonal support; the creation of new organizations; the construction, purchase, or renovation of facilities; or directly for individual elementary or secondary schools—charter, private, or public.

To be eligible to apply, an applicant organization must also have a three-year history of arts programming.

GRANTS FOR ARTS PROJECTS

The arts contribute to our individual well-being, the well-being of our communities, and to our local economies. The arts are also crucial to helping us make sense of our circumstances from different perspectives as we emerge from the pandemic and plan for the future. The National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) is proud to support the nation's arts sector with grant opportunities so that together we can help everyone live more artful lives.

Grants for Arts Projects is our largest grants program for organizations. This category supports opportunities for public engagement with the arts and arts education, the integration of the arts with strategies promoting the health and well-being of people and communities, and the improvement of overall capacity and capabilities within the arts sector. Applications from a variety of eligible organizations are encouraged, including those with small, medium, or large budgets and ranging from rural to urban communities. Projects may be small, medium, or large; existing or new; and may take place in any part of the nation's 50 states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. jurisdictions.

The NEA is committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility, and fostering mutual respect for the diverse beliefs and values of all individuals and groups. We encourage projects that address any of the following:

- Elevate artists as integral and essential to a healthy and vibrant society.
- Celebrate the nation's creativity and/or cultural heritage.
- Facilitate cross-sector collaborations that center the arts at the intersection of other disciplines, sectors, and industries.
- Contribute to healthy and thriving local, regional, state-wide, and national arts ecosystems and arts infrastructures.

- Invest in organizational capacity-building and leadership development for arts organizations, arts workers, and artists.
- Build arts organizations' capacity to serve a broad public through digital or emergent technology and/or support tech-centered creative practices across all artistic disciplines and forms.
- Originate from or are in collaboration with the following constituencies encouraged by White House Executive Orders:
  - Historically Black Colleges and Universities,
  - Tribal Colleges and Universities,
  - American Indian and Alaska Native tribes,
  - Predominantly Black Institutions,
  - Hispanic Serving Institutions,
  - Asian American and Pacific Islander communities, and
  - Organizations that support the independence and lifelong inclusion of people with disabilities.

In recognition of the United States of America's 250th anniversary in 2026, we also welcome arts projects that educate and engage communities in dialogue about the past, present, and future of our nation.

Matching/cost share grants of $10,000 to $100,000 will be awarded. Designated local arts agencies eligible to subgrant may request from $30,000 to $150,000 for matching/cost share subgrant programs.

CHALLENGE AMERICA

These grants offer support primarily to small organizations for projects in all artistic disciplines that extend the reach of the arts to groups/communities with rich and dynamic artistic and cultural contributions to share that are underserved—groups/communities whose opportunities to experience the arts are limited by geography, ethnicity, economics, or disability. Challenge America features an abbreviated application and a robust structure of technical assistance.

This category is an entry point for organizations seeking Arts Endowment funding. First-time applicants to the Arts Endowment, as well as previous Arts Endowment applicants who have not been recently recommended for funding in many of our grant programs, are eligible to apply. See the Challenge America guidelines for eligibility requirements.

Matching/cost share grants of $10,000 will be awarded.

RESEARCH AWARDS

The National Endowment for the Arts invites applicants to engage with the agency's five-year research agenda through two funding opportunities for research projects:

- Research Grants in the Arts funds research studies that investigate the value and/or impact of the arts, either as individual components of the U.S. arts ecology or as they interact with each other and/or with other domains of American life. Matching/cost share grants of $20,000 to $100,000 will be awarded.

Research Grants in the Arts Deadline

- NEA Research Labs funds transdisciplinary research teams grounded in the social and behavioral sciences, yielding empirical insights about the arts for the benefit of arts and non-arts sectors alike. Matching/cost share grants of $100,000 to $150,000 will be awarded.

OUR TOWN

Our Town is the National Endowment for the Arts' creative placemaking grant program. These grants support projects that integrate arts, culture, and design activities into efforts that strengthen communities by advancing local economic, physical, and/or social outcomes.

Successful Our Town projects ultimately lay the groundwork for systems changes that sustain the integration of arts, culture, and design into strategies for strengthening communities. You may apply to other NEA funding opportunities, including Grants for Arts Projects, in addition to Our Town. If you submit applications to other opportunities, each request must be for a distinctly different project, or a distinctly different phase of a project.

Communities of all sizes in all 50 states, DC, and U.S. jurisdictions have been funded through the program, and many interesting partnerships between arts organizations and government, private, and other nonprofit organizations have occurred.

Matching/cost share grants of $25,000 to $150,000 will be awarded.

LITERATURE FELLOWSHIPS

Through National Endowment for the Arts Literature Fellowships awarded to published creative writers and translators, the agency advances its goals of creating art that meets the highest standards of excellence and engaging the public with diverse and excellent art. Literature Fellowships in creative writing enable recipients to set aside time for writing. These non-matching grants are for $25,000. This program operates on a two-year cycle with fellowships in prose available one year and fellowships in poetry available the next.

Literature Fellowship applications for creative writing are evaluated through a process of anonymous manuscript review under the sole criteria of artistic excellence and merit. Panelists do not know the identities of the writers, their publishing histories, academic achievements, or previous awards.

Literature Fellowships also are given for translation projects, enabling recipients to translate works of prose, poetry, or drama from other languages into English. The art of literary translation has made available to the American public some of the most important writing in the world. Non-matching grants are awarded in amounts of up to $25,000.

The Literature Fellowships are the only competitive, non-nominated awards that the National Endowment for the Arts gives to individual artists.

If you have questions about either grant program, please contact the Literary Arts staff at 202-682-5034 or LitFellowships@arts.gov.

NATIONAL MEDAL OF ARTS

The National Medal of Arts is the highest award given to artists and arts patrons by the federal government. It is awarded by the president of the United States to individuals or groups who are deserving of special recognition by reason of their outstanding contributions to the excellence, growth, support, and availability of the arts in the United States. Annually, a number of nominations are submitted from citizens across the country for consideration by the National Council on the Arts, which in turn submits its recommendations to the White House.

NEA JAZZ MASTERS FELLOWSHIPS

The National Endowment for the Arts Jazz Masters Fellowships are the highest honors that our government bestows upon jazz musicians. These fellowships are given in recognition of those individuals who have made significant contributions to the art of jazz. Non-matching fellowships of $25,000 each are awarded annually on the basis of nominations from the public.

The National Endowment for the Arts honors a wide range of styles in the jazz field. In addition, the A.B. Spellman Jazz Masters Award for Jazz Advocacy is given to an individual who has made a major contribution to the appreciation, knowledge, and advancement of jazz, such as a writer, patron, or presenter.

In addition, the Bess Lomax Hawes National Heritage Award is presented to an individual who has made a major contribution to the excellence, vitality, and public appreciation of the folk and traditional arts through teaching, collecting, advocacy, or preservation work.

The regional arts organizations, each representing a geographic grouping of states, assist the National Endowment for the Arts in distributing funds and programs nationally through touring and other activities that are responsive to the needs of the region.

GOVERNMENT PARTNERSHIPS

The National Endowment for the Arts works with other federal agencies, as well as with state and local governments, on projects that provide opportunities for thousands of Americans to experience quality arts programming throughout the country. These partnerships include initiatives with such agencies as the Department of Education, Department of Defense, Department of Veterans Affairs, and National Institutes of Health.

INITIATIVES

The National Endowment for the Arts partners with state arts agencies, regional arts organizations, government entities, and for-profit and nonprofit organizations on national initiatives that provide opportunities for Americans to experience quality arts programming throughout the country.

ARTS AND ARTIFACTS INDEMNITY PROGRAM

This program was created by the Arts and Artifacts Indemnity Act of 1975 (20 U.S.C. 971) to minimize the costs of insuring international exhibitions and was amended in 2007 to include domestic exhibitions. The program is administered by the National Endowment for the Arts for the Federal Council on the Arts and the Humanities, which comprises agency heads throughout the government.

ARTS AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT TASK FORCE

Beginning in 2011, the National Endowment for the Arts has convened a Federal Interagency Task Force on the Arts and Human Development to encourage more and better research on how the arts can help people reach their full potential at all stages of life. Task force members represent multiple units across federal government, including the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the National Institutes of Health, the National Science Foundation, and the U.S. Department of Education.

To date, the Task Force has met quarterly to share ideas and information about research gaps and opportunities for understanding the arts' role in improving health and educational outcomes throughout the lifespan. Task Force members also have collaborated on public webinars, research reports, and convenings about the arts and human development. For more information, go to arts.gov/task-force.

ARTS EDUCATION PARTNERSHIP

The Arts Education Partnership (AEP), a center within the Education Commission of the States (ECS), is a national network of organizations dedicated to advancing the arts in education through research, policy, and practice. AEP's annual conference brings together leaders from around the country to foster collaboration and action that helps secure the role of arts education in the curriculum. Established in 1995, AEP is supported by the National Endowment for the Arts and the U.S. Department of Education in cooperation with ECS and comprises more than 100 education, arts, business, cultural, government, and philanthropic organizations. For more information, please go to aep-arts.org.

BLUE STAR MUSEUMS

Blue Star Museums is a collaboration among the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, the U.S. Department of Defense, and participating museums as a way to thank our military personnel and their families for their service and sacrifice. The program provides free admission for active-duty military personnel and their families during the summer to participating museums nationwide. For more information, go to arts.gov/bluestarmuseums.

CITIZENS' INSTITUTE ON RURAL DESIGN

Design can be a powerful tool for rural communities to build upon existing assets and improve the way a community looks, its quality of life, and its economic viability. Established in 1991, the Citizens' Institute on Rural Design (CIRD) is a National Endowment for the Arts leadership initiative in partnership with the Housing Assistance Council. CIRD offers funding and technical assistance to small towns and rural communities to host community design workshops. In addition, the program offers rural community leaders the option to participate in a rural design learning cohort to dive more deeply into design principles and engage with their peers. With the support of design professionals from the fields of community planning, architecture, landscape architecture, and creative placemaking, CIRD brings together local leaders from nonprofits, community organizations, and government to develop actionable solutions to pressing rural design challenges. For more information on CIRD, visit rural-design.org.

CREATIVE FORCES

Creative Forces®: NEA Military Healing Arts Network is an initiative of the National Endowment for the Arts in partnership with the U.S. Departments of Defense and Veterans Affairs that seeks to improve the health, well-being, and quality of life for military and veteran populations exposed to trauma, as well as their families and caregivers.

The program places creative arts therapies at the core of patient-centered care at clinical sites throughout the country, including telehealth services, and increases access to community arts activities to promote health, well-being and quality of life for military service members, veterans, and their families and caregivers. Creative Forces is managed in partnership with Americans for the Arts, the Henry M. Jackson Foundation for the Advancement of Military Medicine, and Mid-America Arts Alliance.

Creative Forces' capacity-building efforts include the development of toolkits, training materials, and other resources to support best practices in serving the target populations. In addition, Creative Forces is investing in research on the impacts and benefits—physical, social, and emotional—of these innovative treatment methods. Visit Creative Forces' National Resource Center to learn more and to read all research associated with Creative Forces: creativeforcesnrc.arts.gov.

DISASTER RECOVERY

Through support of state and local arts agencies and local arts organizations, the National Endowment for the Arts has been involved in helping communities recover from disasters. The Arts Endowment has provided financial support, technical assistance, and national leadership following man-made disasters such as the Oklahoma City bombing and 9/11 and natural disasters such as the 2005 hurricanes that devastated the Gulf Coast states. In the fall of 2018, the agency again offered emergency funding and support to areas damaged by powerful hurricanes in Texas, Florida, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico. In addition, Arts Endowment staff have deployed multiple times to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands through the Interior Department and FEMA to work with state and local agencies on damage to cultural and historical resources and to help advance the recovery of arts and culture sectors. This has included capacity-building for nonprofit arts organizations so they are better prepared for future calamities.

MAYORS' INSTITUTE ON CITY DESIGN

Since 1986, the Mayors' Institute on City Design (MICD) has helped transform communities through design by preparing mayors to be the chief urban designers of their cities. A partnership of the National Endowment for the Arts and U.S. Conference of Mayors, MICD brings mayors and design experts together for in-person and virtual sessions to present and discuss case studies of critical urban design challenges brought by the participating mayors. More than 1,200 mayors have participated in MICD since the program began, having a significant impact on how American cities look and feel. For more information on MICD, go to micd.org.

MUSICAL THEATER SONGWRITING CHALLENGE

The Musical Theater Songwriting Challenge is a competition for high school students who have a passion for writing songs that could be part of a musical theater production. Launched in 2016 as a pilot program in three cities, the program expanded to a national competition in 2017, offering six finalists mentorships with professional songwriters and the opportunity to have an original song performed by Broadway musicians and vocalists. In 2020, the pandemic forced all mentoring sessions to be virtual; however, the program was able to include 12 finalists. For more information, visit arts.gov/songwriting.

NEA BIG READ

An initiative in partnership with Arts Midwest, the National Endowment for the Arts Big Read broadens our understanding of our world, our communities, and ourselves through the joy of sharing a good book. Showcasing a diverse range of themes, voices, and perspectives, the NEA Big Read aims to inspire conversation and discovery. The main feature of the initiative is a grants program, managed by Arts Midwest, which annually supports selected nonprofit organizations around the country to host dynamic community-wide reading programs, each designed around a single Big Read selection. For more information, visit arts.gov/neabigread.

The program starts at the classroom/school level or at the local level with an area organization. Winners then may advance to a regional and/or state competition, and ultimately to the national finals. In total, Poetry Out Loud annually awards more than $100,000 to state- and national-level winners. For more information on how to participate in the official program, visit poetryoutloud.org.

SOUND HEALTH NETWORK

The Sound Health Network (SNH) is a partnership of the National Endowment for the Arts with the University of California, San Francisco in collaboration with the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, and Renée Fleming, the center's artistic advisor. The SHN was established to promote research and public awareness about the impact of music on health and wellness. For more information, go to arts.gov/initiatives/sound-health-network.
